

Embodying the Heart of Virtue

The Jaya Kula Board of Directors Code of Conduct

Version 1.0 – September 15, 2016

Jaya Kula is a registered 501(c)3 non-profit spiritual organization. We offer opportunities to learn and practice in the traditions of Trika Shaivism and Dzogchen.

Members of our Board of Directors do their best to embody the virtues we feel exemplify the culture of Jaya Kula. This code of conduct expresses our wholehearted desire to create and maintain a community that can serve as a healthy crucible for people who want to wake up and discover their real nature.

Clarity of Purpose

We approach all circumstances as opportunities to wake up.

Self-responsibility

We accept reflection and courageously take responsibility for how we are showing up.

Financial Integrity and Transparency

We practice financial integrity and transparency in every aspect of our lives, not just in matters related to Jaya Kula.

Playfulness

We adapt playfully to circumstance and are willing to laugh at ourselves, not insisting earnestly on remaining stuck in habitual reactivity.

Honesty

We practice total honesty in every aspect of our lives, not just in matters related to Jaya Kula.

Modesty

We are willing to go step-by-step along with others and to operate behind the scenes unostentatiously without demanding recognition.

Equality

We treat everyone with equality and respect, never denigrating, disparaging or competing with others for supremacy.

Hosting

We are first in line to offer seva to the community and to step up when there are unfilled seva needs.

Tenderness

We continually remember to open our hearts and be tender and compassionate toward all.
